STOCKPORT AWARDS

NHS Professionals sponsored an award in October and were invited to attend the Award Ceremony on the 7th October with guest speaker Dominic Hughes BBC Health Correspondent. It was such a lovely evening and so warming to hear so many nice stories about people who had gone out of their way to help others and how the various teams had been nominated for improving their services.

NHS Professionals sponsored the award for Clinical Team of the year, congratulations to the team and all the other winners it was a privilege to attend.
